IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT RICHLAND

James S. Gordon, Jr., Plaintiff, vs. Impulse Marketing Group, Inc., Defendant Impulse Marketing Group, Inc., Third-Party Plaintiff, v. Robert Leigh Pritchett,, Third-Party Defendants	Case No.: CV-04-5125-FVS THIRD-PARTY DEFENDANT'S MEMORANDUM OF AUTHORITIES

TO: Clerk of the Court

AND TO: Floyd E. Ivey, Attorney for Third-Party Plaintiff

AND TO: Peter J. Glantz and Sean A. Moynihan

Having no legal training, the undersigned hasn't the wherewithal to cite case law or statute to propound a legal rationale for its position below. However, as a matter of equity, third party defendant should prevail as Impulse filed this counter suit to intimidate and annoy me. Impulse could have deposed me, without the current charade of a lawsuit and discovery – a delaying tactic to enable Impulse more time to fish for something that does not exist – a nexus to or culpability in an alleged scheme by me.

Even to a layperson, one can see that third party plaintiff was not able to elevate its allegations or claims to the level of evidence as none was provided. Innuendo even fails to persuade in the court of public opinion. It is in the interest of judicial economy, that the Court grant third party defendant's motion to dismiss with prejudice.

The undersigned respectfully requests that the Court issues an order granting third party defendant the dismissal of the claims and counterclaims of third party plaintiff.

Dated this 7th day of November, 2005.
